Covid-19 Precautions

In order for us to be allowed to hold this event we have been required to implement certain rules and restrictions. During the week this building is used as a high school, and we are sure you will therefore appreciate the need for us to adhere to all current guidance.

Please ensure that you follow this guidance at all times; anyone who fails to do so may be asked to leave:

- ◆ Wear a face mask when moving around the building, which properly covers your nose and mouth
- ◆ Ensure you take your mask with you at the end of the day, and if it is disposable, do so appropriately
- ◆ Use the hand sanitation gel provided when entering or leaving a room
- ◆ Always keep at least 1m away from anyone who is not in your family group/bubble
- ◆ Follow all seating guidance and instructions received from marshals at all times, even if you don't agree with it
- ◆ Place your own paper plates and paper cups in the bins provided when you have finished with them
- ◆ Complete your Track & Trace card in full and place it in the box provided when you leave the Festival for the last time

Thank you

WELCOME TO THREE LOCHS 2021!

When the committee started planning this event at the end of 2018, we had no idea that we would have to wait three years for our next Festival, or all the upheaval everyone has had to deal with in the interim. Throughout this time, the Committee has been determined to hold an event, as soon as was practicable, and show our community that life can and does go on.

We are enormously grateful that almost all of the presenters booked to attend last year, have been able to reschedule and join us here this weekend. We have a varied and fascinating programme to offer you, as always, and we hope that everyone will find something to interest them. We are sorry that we have been unable to include the usual children's activities, but it just hasn't been possible - fingers crossed for 2023!

THANK YOU for continuing to support Three Lochs Book and Arts Festival, we hope you enjoy your time here. Please contact us if you have any questions or comments.
